

Denise is the Department of War Lead for the Aviation Cyber Initiative (ACI). She represents the third chair along with her colleagues from the Department of Homeland Security and the Federal Aviation Administration. Denise oversees a portfolio to reduce cybersecurity risks and improve cyber resilience to support safe, secure, and efficient operations of the Nation's Aviation Ecosystem. Along with the ACI Tri-Chairs, and with the support of government, industry, and academia aviation cybersecurity professionals and leaders, various efforts are underway to meet the National Strategy for Aviation Security objectives.
