

Alan Yazdani

Alan Yazdani has been with AECOM for over 20 years with a broad range of experience in airfield and pavement management and design. His experience includes civil aviation and federal work managing projects at public airports and military bases. He has specific experience in managing airfield projects including over a decade of doing PMP work at BWI Marshall. His experience also includes aviation work in the Middle East, Africa, and Baltic States in Europe. He is a registered Professional Engineer in several states.